John P. McArthur's Majority 65

Tuesday, Returning officer W. W. Brown, at Lincoln's office in Langdon proclaimed John Peter McArthur duly elected to represent the Gleichen constituency in the Legislature of the Province of Alberta by a majority of 65 votes.

Promptly at 12 o'clock the returning officer proceeded to open the ballot boxes and make the official count. The proceedings were very quietly conducted, there being present only Messrs Brown, Lincoln, Service, Weir, Cown and the CALL reporter. As Mr. McElroy did not appear or anyone to represent him, Mr. McArthur remained only a few minutes, afterwards stating that he thought it better for him to withdraw when his opponent was not represented.

The CALL reporter took a detailed report of the proceedings, which is appended.

After the official announcement had been made Mr. McArthur was found talking to some friends on the street, and when told of the result he modestly stated he was very much pleased to learn that his majority had been increased and said he most sincerely thanked his friends for the honor bestowed upon him and that he would do his utmost to show that he appreciated the confidence placed in him to represent this riding. He sincerely hoped that the people of the Gleichen constituency would not be disappointed in any action of his while assisting in transacting the business of the Province. He desired the CALL to convey his thanks to the many friends who assisted in the recent campaign, but hoped that his actions would prove of more worth than any statement he might make at this time.

Pacific Cold Storage Ship Cattle to Dawson.

The Pacific Cold Storage Company made their first shipment for the season, of steers, to Dawson City on Thursday last, consisting of only two carloads, but the animals were in excellent condition and equalled in weight the best of the thousands the company has shipped from Gleichen. Those who saw the animals expressed surprise to see range stock in such excellent shape at this season. The company are preparing to follow this shipment with many others this spring and summer.

CLUNY NEWS

J. M. Telford has started work on the construction of a large barn. Mr. Telford is one of our oldest and most successful ranchers and farmers and when it is said he is turning his attention to mixed farming it is a sign of the times.

F. E. Renaud is adding a two story addition to his boarding house to accommodate his ever increasing business.

Our baseball boys are anxious to take a twirl out of Gleichen at any time and expect at least to make it interesting.

The Cluny ferry across the Bow river is not in shape for running yet, and our Queenstown farmers have been obliged to stop hauling grain here. It is time the government got busy and gave us that much talked of bridge.

The Cluny Base Ball Club members will give their first dance on Friday evening, May 2nd, in the Cluny Billiard Hall. They are so putting on a basket social at the same time and request the ladies to bring baskets. Everybody is invited to attend and the boys hope to give all Gleichenites an idea of their hospitality before defeating them.

The Cluny Lumber Co. has just opened yards in Cluny and is now ready for business.

The Cluny Nurseries, "the birthplace of little trees that grow", is now a very busy place. Thousands of trees, shrubs and flower plants have been shipped from here the past few weeks and still the orders are coming in.

Sunday Morning Blaze

About 1:20 o'clock Sunday morning the siren fire alarm whistle aroused most of the inhabitants of Gleichen to find a work car on the C. P. R. track west of the stock yards, was ablaze. Dr. McIntyre was the first on the scene, who resides almost opposite the spot where the car stood. He and his wife were awakened by bounding and shouts and the doctor hurriedly dressing ran across to discover the car was on fire and that four Italians occupying it were frantically beating out the end of the car in an effort to escape. Just as he rushed there the men came tumbling out in scant clothing, half smothered in smoke and very badly frightened. Learning that the men had all escaped the doctor, who is acknowledged Gleichen's champion foot-racer, made fast time to the Palace Hotel and frantically ringing the telephone to central asking for the alarm to be sent in, but mounting the C. P. R. right overrunning, saving the blaze made it hard for the power house and fire the alarm. Fire-fighter and local men, who was seen on the scene, rushed to the scene, Irvine and his staff as well as those along the track, and a rope being run around the blazing car, it was hauled westward, but not before the end of two carloads of cedar posts piled just along side of the car caught fire.

Immediately east of the pile of posts the Southern Alberta Land company's store house is situated, and here Fire Chief Marshall and his fire brigade did some effective work, managing with the chemical engines, despite intense heat, to keep the building from igniting, although they were obliged to place a rope around a small leanto and tear it from the main building. Had the store house burned there would have been little hope of saving the long coal sheds adjoining and the stock corrals. It is estimated that besides the loss of the car and posts, valued at about $600, there was a slight loss in moving the stock as well as all the belongings of the Italians, who are said to have lost from twenty to sixty dollars in cash each.

From the information gathered it appears the fire must have originated from the cook stove in the car and that the Italians, who were working in this vicinity as an extra gang, awoke to find the car on fire, the flames having already passed the side door or regular entrance from the kitchen end of the car and they found themselves caught like rats in a trap.

WOLF BOUNTY EXHAUSTED

It is to be regretted that the Gleichen Ranchers' Association is practically no longer in existence, due to the fact that a number of those most interested have failed to keep up their dues to the association, especially with regard to the wolf bounty. Secretary-Treasurer Chris. Bartsch seen the other day admitted the association was financially embarrassed and added that he would no longer hold his position. He explained the trouble was in that many of the ranchers would not send in their dues until they had lost heavily and then they would complain most bitterly. Mr. Bartsch pointed out that the government only allowed $10 bounty on wolves, and the ranchers had increased this to $100 for males and $200 for female wolves, but lately the ranchers had failed in sending in their contributions and the treasury was depleted and, therefore, he could pay no more bounty.

North of here he said quite recently wolves had killed ten cattle and several horses and he pointed out that while most people were unaware of it the fact is that wolves invariably pick out the very best horses and cattle in a bunch to kill, while the coyotes choose the weaklings.

Within the past two weeks seven wolves have been killed and eight young pups have been brought in alive. Mr. Bartsch deeply regrets that the ranchers and the Legislature neglected the opportunity to exterminate the wolves, believing that had the bounty been continued a short time their extinction would be certain.

The annual meeting of the W. A. of St. Andrew's Church was held last Thursday, April 24th, in the church and was well attended. Rev. Canon Stocken and the Rector, Rev. E. Cox Clark, gave addresses. The following ladies were elected to office for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. J. W. Jowett.
Vice-President, Mrs. A. Ryckman.
Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. A. E. Jones.

Recording Secretary, not filled.
Treasurer, Miss Stocken.

Delegates to the Diocesan Board: Mrs. J. C. Buckley and Mrs. J. W. Jowett.

It was resolved to devote all and every attention of the W. A. during the coming year in an endeavor to whip out, if possible, the heavy debt now owing by the church.

After the services, election of officers and the business concluded afternoon tea was held in the Rectory, presided over by Mrs. E. Cox Clark, who a most enjoyable time was spent as a relaxation of the labors of the day.

With the hearty and united efforts of all the ladies we are confident that the next annual balance sheet will show a much more favorable financial position and the debt over $600, if not entirely wiped

A Good Race Program for May 24

"Empire Day" or "Victoria Day" as many choose to call it will be fittingly celebrated in Gleichen, May 24th has during the life of the Queen been acknowledged to be the first holiday of the year, being the birthday of good Queen Victoria and it will probably long remain so.

Gleichen has always recognized this day and 1913 is to be no exception, for the Gleichen Agricultural Association has decided to put on a good program of sports.

True, the program will not contain as great prizes in dollars and cents as last year, but what is lacking in this will be made up in good sport and plenty of fun for all. The committee appointed to draw out the list of events did not feel it incumbent upon them to make the prizes large at this time, but believed the public would appreciate an effort to give day's good sport and relieve all those who usually contribute to the prizes. However, it is stated that a number of men from distant points have offered to bring their horses here on that day, and it is fully believed every event will be well filled.

The prize list is as follows:

1/2 Mile Trot or Pace, open, 3 heats	Purse $50
1/2 Mile Trot or Pace, Farmers, 3 heats	" 35

1/2 Mile Local Pony, 14.2 and under	" 15

Wasted Effort

Two young lovers were dining at a cafe one evening. Chicken was served, and the young man securing the wishbone said to his companion: "Take hold here and pull, and wish for something. When it breaks the one who has the bigger part will have what was wished for."

But I don't know what to wish for," he objected.

Oh, you can think of something, he said.

No, I can't, she insisted. I can't think of anything I want very much.

Well then I'll wish for you, he exclaimed.

Will you really, she said.

Yes.

Well, then, in that case there's no use fooling with the wish-bone.

you can have me.

Look here, sir, said the impatient creditor. I am talking about that bill you owe me. Will you please pay a little attention?

Surely, replied the care-free debtor, that's easy. Only don't ask me to pay you anything else.

His Revenge

COP DRESSED AS GIRL

Did Not Feel Quite at Home in Togs, Yet Success Was His

London, England.—Dressed as a woman, a fresh-complexioned young Wokingham, Berkshire, police constable named Albert Fellwood so completely deceived John Butler, a local painter, that he did not know until after his arrest that he had attempted to flirt with a constable. At Wokingham police court Butler was sentenced to two months' hard labor for sending objectionable letters to Miss Bartlow, of Wokingham.

These letters, it was ascertained in court, asked Miss Bartlow to meet him outside her home. She did not read the letters, her mother opening them and her father informing the police, in order to identify the writer and to arrest him. Superintendent Goddard conceived the idea of dressing Fellwood in clothes belonging to Miss Bartlow. So disguised, Fellwood kept the appointment made for Miss Bartlow.

Walking down the street he played his part. I dressed as Miss Bartlow's maid. I wore a tight-fitting light brown serge skirt, a white blouse, a Dolly Varden hat, motor veil, feather boa and a long gray ulster. Dressing was not an easy matter. The skirt was rather tight round the waist and the movements of my legs were very much restricted. The hat went on easily enough but I had a little trouble with the blouse.

Walking down the drive I found myself tripping, through trying to do the regulation 36-inch stride. I soon came down to 18 inches. I saw Butler standing near the gate and I walked up to him. Then I thought of my voice, which is rather deep. I pitched it as near to the falsetto as I could and said: Good evening. He was delighted to see me, called me "Dearest," and suggested a walk.

I arranged to meet him again two evenings after at the same time and place. On that evening at 7.30 I dressed again, only was not alone. Butler was then arrested, and that ended my part.

COUNTESS COURT-MARTIALED

Descendant of Vasco da Gama Accused of Treason to Portugal

Republic

Lisbon.—The greatest interest was aroused throughout Portugal by the trial by court-martial of Donna Constantia da Gama, a descendant of Vasco da Gama, the famous Portuguese explorer who rounded the Cape in 1497, and daughter of the countess of Cascais, who had been imprisoned since 1515, on a charge of conspiracy against the republic.

Donna da Gama refused to allow any witnesses to be called for the defense and instructed her lawyer not to ask for her acquittal. The court was crowded. Hundreds of women were present, all wearing black. Nearly all of those present rose when the prisoner entered and took her place by the side of two other owners—a soldier and a servant—who were alleged to have been her accomplices.

The trial ended by the acquittal of Donna da Gama and the condemnation of the other two prisoners to two years' imprisonment.

Ostend.—M. Marquet, the casino proprietor, has made arrangements to have a luxurious gambling room fitted up in a large steam yacht which is to ply between Ostend and other watering places. Gambling will only take place when the yacht is outside the three-mile limit. Although games of hazard are now forbidden, a Franco-Belgian group has paid $1,000 for the lease of the gambling room in the Kursaal during the next summer season.

This overheard conversation appeals to the weary one as nearly epigrammatic. The young people on the seat ahead of us in the homeward bound car the other night talked it out so loud that we couldn't help hearing it and jotting down a few notes on it.

So, said the girl, he said he knew me when I was a little girl?

He didn't say anything of the sort, contradicted the man.

You said he did.

I didn't.

Why? Then what did you say?

I said I said he knew you when he was a little boy.

Thas put such a wet blanket on the conversation that we were able to read our sporting extra uninterrupted for the next few blocks.

Even the man who knows it all seldom gets a chance to tell it after he gets married.

A city woman who recently passed a few days at a farm, bought some poultry from the farmer with a view to providing fresh eggs for breakfast every morning. She sent them to town by messenger, at the same time despatching a note to her husband telling him to look out for the consignment. Her husband, on reaching his home that night, asked if the poultry had arrived. He was informed that it had, but explained the servant had carelessly left the basement door open and all the chickens escaped. A fowl hunt was immediately organized. The next day the husband, meeting his wife on her return, exclaimed: A nice time I had with your poultry. I spent three hours hunting and only found ten.

You may consider yourself lucky, then, replied his wife, for I only bought six.

A Good Sign

A French diplomat at a luncheon in Washington, praised President Wilson's inaugural address.

I liked the modest tone of this address, he said. I liked the ending, where he asked so humbly and so sincerely for the people's support and concern.

A Princeton woman nodded approval.

Sincerity and modesty, she said are the keynotes of the President's character.

They assure us that he will do nothing injurious to the people's will. He will remember what I once heard him say.

The wise leader is he who knows when to follow.

The Woman and the Dog

An elderly woman, with a small dog upon her lap, while riding in a trolley car, asked the conductor if he would kindly tell her when he got to Hazel street.

After she had got up two or three times, the conductor told her to keep her seat and he would let her know when they reached Hazel street.

Finally he called out: Hazel street.

The woman held the dog up to the window, and said: Fido, look! There's where you were born! Then turning to the conductor, she remarked, I'm going to the end of the line.

SUICIDE IN THE AIR

Russian Army Aviator Deliberately Falls to Death

Warsaw.—Lieutenant Alexander Perlovskiy, a Russian aviator, who was killed by falling from a height of two feet while making a flight, left a letter stating that his death was the deliberate result of his own action.

Written shortly before he began his flight, the letter announced his intention to stop the motor in midair. He gave as a reason for his action that he was the victim of an intrigue.

His Job—How are the plans for your new house coming along?

Splendid. My wife has finally laid out all the cupboards she wants, and now all the architect's got to do is to build them around them.

What are you doing for our cause?

Asked a suffragette worker.

Doing? replied the man. I'm reporting one of your most enthusiastic members.

One way to keep the boys on the farm is to install a motor to turn the grindstone.

Whoever said there is a remedy for every ill never was a dancer and lost a leg.

Harry—Great Scott, man! why don't you chew cloves?

Wrong.—Do you keep coffee in the bean?

No, madam brains.

A Clear Record

Seeing the youngster sitting on the doorstep, crying pitiably, a kind-hearted old gentleman went up to him, and asked what might be the matter with the lad.

Hunger appeared to be the matter; the boy said he hadn't had anything to eat that day.

But why doesn't your father give you food?

No reply.

What is your father? asked the would-be philanthropist.

Gleichen, Alberta, May 1 1913

That this district is an ideal mixed farming one is becoming recognized by our farmers more and more. During the past year great strides have been made in this direction and now there is practically not a farmer who is not gradually working into it.

Three years ago there were few farmers in the Bow Valley who attempted to raise or feed stock. Plenty of them purchased butter, milk, eggs, beef, pork, mutton, etc., but to-day nearly every one has these articles for sale.

Three years ago the farmer's whole thought was grain growing, and how to get rid of his straw. Now he is figuring now he can buy or arrange with the ranchers for horses and cattle to feed his straw to—finding it most profitable. He has learned that while the price of grain has decreased, that by feeding his grain he can get a better price for it than he ever did when grain was at its highest prices.

The result of the steer feeding contest appearing elsewhere in this issue will be read with the deepest interest by all our farmers, more especially as the prizes were won by boys ranging in age from 12 years to 17. No doubt many of their elders will take lesson from the success the boys have attained and from now on keenly enter into the business. The C.P.R. has undoubtedly done a good thing for the farmers in providing the stock and giving the handsome prizes. Many a farmer's boy is not only happy in the thought of the prizes he has won, as well as the fine profits made in feeding, but so long as he may live will be thankful that the company so generously taught him how to use advantageously material that was going to waste.

Direct Legislation in Alberta

The Trades and Labor Council of Edmonton proposed that Alberta make its first try out of the newly adopted direct legislation by voting upon a proposal to have voters' lists in the province. It is a very good question to refer to the people. The question is important and not involved. It is not a party question. The time is opportune. As the vote in the recent election was not very heavy the petition for the initiative on this important matter need not be very large. Everything is favorable for the submission of this question to the electorate.

Flax Wilt Treatment

Flax wilt is a serious disease of flax and has been reported from a number of districts. Unless the farmers of this province are wide awake much damage and loss may ensue. Ordinary intelligence will protect any man from this disease, but lack of proper attention may mean financial ruin to many a farmer. Flax wilt may be prevented by treating with formalin and by rotation of crops.

Make a solution to the strength of 16 oz. of formalin to 40 gallons of water spread the flax upon a tight floor or canvas in quantities of from five to ten bushels and gradually moisten the seed by the use of a fine spray and at the same time rapidly shovel or rake over the flax. In this manner the seed may be thoroughly dampened without causing it to mate together, one-half gallon of the solution being plenty for a barrel of flax. After treatment cover the pile with a canvas and if shovelled over once or twice it will readily run through a grain drill.

Paper from Flax Straw

The United States department of agriculture has taken steps to perfect a process for utilizing in the manufacture of paper the great quantities of flax straw burned every fall in North Dakota. Prof. Chas. J. Brand, of the department has made final arrangements for the purchase of a carload of North Dakota flax straw to be used in a government test at Cumberland mills, Maine, of the manufacture of paper pulp. North Dakota has a yearly flax crop of approximately a million acres. There is wasted every fall over 2,000,000 tons of flax straw.

Prof. Brand has been working for four years on experiments to find a substitute for wool pulp. The scarcity and increased cost of this raw material is responsible for the determination on the part of the government to find a substitute. In getting ten tons of flax straw the expert was able to arrive at the normal price at which the product could be laid down at a central market. It has already been demonstrated that flax pulp makes splendid paper, and can be utilized in making exceptionally strong bags suitable for cement sacks. When the straw can be chemically tested so as to yield 35 per cent of pulp, it will at once become a staple raw material. If the cost of transporting the raw material proves too heavy, the result will be the building of paper mills in North Dakota.

Owing to the large acreage of flax grown in Alberta, and the promotion of several paper making concerns, using straw as raw material, the outcome of this experiment will be of much interest to our readers.

RESULT OF THE C. P. R. STEER FEEDING CONTEST FOR BOYS

Boy Who Won First Prize Cleared up $289.50 Those Who Failed to Win a Prize Made From $146.00 to $311.00

The steer feeding competition inaugurated by the Animal Husbandry Branch of the Department of Natural Resources of the Canadian Pacific Railway for farmer's sons in the Irrigation block has now been completed.

Of the two hundred and seventy two steers which, in lots of eight, were last fall entrusted to thirty-four competitors, two hundred and seventy have been returned to the company and sold at the highest prices obtainable on the Calgary market.

The steers used in this competition were high class three year old feeders, in good beef condition, off grass, and in November last, cost the Department 6½ cents per pound. Under the terms of the competition, the steers were delivered to the competitors at that figure, on the understanding, that, when turned in at the time of the Calgary Spring show, the feeder would receive the difference between the cost as above stated and the actual market value of the animals when sold to the best possible advantage.

The different results achieved by these lads, under conditions practically identical, are somewhat remarkable. While some of the lots showed such uniform improvement that it was possible to class all the animals composing them as choice beef, it was found, in many cases, necessary to grade the animals into three classes, according to quality.

Where, as frequently happened, steers of different qualities were found in the same lot, those of each class were weighed separately, with the view of giving the competitor the highest price obtainable for each.

One hundred and twenty seven steers in all were graded first class and topped the market, being sold at $7.70 per hundred weight. In the second class, ninety four brought $7.35.

The steers were weighed off cars at Calgary when delivered to the competitors, and when turned in, were carefully weighed by the Superintendent of the Alberta Stock yards in presence of two witnesses after being allowed thirty six hours with feed and water.

The Department paid the freight on the cattle, both going and returning, and also supplied feed and attendance in the yards in Calgary.

The first prize of $100.00 was won by Harold C. Bellamy of Keoma, age 16, all of whose steers graded first class. Young Bellamy, added 1005 pounds to the weight of his cattle, which with the increase in price, gave him a net return, apart from the prize money, of $186.50.

The second prize of $75.00 was won by John Cassels of Langdon, aged 12 years, whose steers were also all in the first grade. He added 775 pounds to the weight of his steers, making a net profit, apart from the prize money of $175.

The third prize of $50 was won by William Cassels Jr., aged 12 years, one of whose steers dropped into the second class, the added weight of the eight animals being 635 pounds and the net profit, apart from the prize money of $152.60.

The fourth prize of $25 was won by Russel Culp of Keoma, aged 17. Six of his steers graded first class and two second class the added weight being 530 pounds, and the net profit, apart from prize money $150.98.

In the case of the next twelve competitors, the cash returns ranged from $146 to $111.

From among the best of the steers turned in, two lots of fifteen each were carefully selected and shown in competition for the special prizes offered for fat stock at the Calgary Spring Show, under the auspices of the Animal Husbandry Branch, it being the intention to divide any prize money which might be won among the competitors in proportion to the number of steers owned by each.

These steers were individually very good, but coming as they did from many different feeders, were lacking in uniformity and finish, and while much admired, were not placed among the prize winners.

The wide divergence in the results is very interesting, presenting as it does, a fair illustration of the great differences which exist among our incoming settlers not in character, but in the degree of practical knowledge which they possess.

It is the intention later on to publish fuller details relative to the manner in which the various different lots were fed and handled, in the hope that the information thus afforded will be of real benefit to others, who, while realizing that coarse grains and roughage may be profitably used in the fattening of stock, are anxious to learn how these may be utilized to the best advantage. The general interest which this experiment has attracted not only in the irrigation block, but elsewhere, affords good ground for the belief that the benefits resulting from it will more than justify the effort and expenditure which it has cost.

To Edit A Newspaper

Dr. Talmage, one of the greatest pulpit orators, in one of his sermons on the "Spirit of the Press," said:

"To publish a newspaper requires the skill, precision, vigilance, boldness and strategy of a commander-in-chief. To edit a newspaper requires that one be a statesman, an essayist, a geographer, a statistician and in addition an encyclopedist. To man, to govern, to propel a newspaper until it shall be a fixed institution, a national fact, demands more qualities than any other business on earth. If you feel like starting a newspaper, secular or religious, understand you are threatened with softening of the brain or insanity, and—throwing your pocket-book into your wife's lap—start for some insane asylum before you do something desperate."

"First of all, newspapers make knowledge democratic and for the multitude. The public library is a haymow so high up that few can reach it, while newspapers throw down the forage to our feet. Public libraries are the reservoirs where the great floods are stored high up and away off. The newspaper is the tunnel that brings them down to the pitchers of all the people. The chief use of great libraries is to make newspapers out of. Great libraries make a few men and women very wise. Newspapers lift whole nations into the sunlight."

"You cannot find ten literary men in Christendom with strong minds and great hearts, but are or have been somehow connected with the news-paper printing press. The book will always have its place, but the newspaper is more potent. Because the latter is multitudinous do not conclude it is necessarily superficial. If a man should from childhood to old age see only his Bible, Webster's Dictionary and his newspaper, he could be prepared for all the duties of this life and all the happiness of the next."

EMIGRATION LESS IN IRELAND*Two Facts Which Go to Prove That an Era of Peace and Prosperity Has Arrived

Dublin, Ireland.—About a dozen ago, one of the Irish judges of assize was angry at Tullamore—and he said so. The distinguished official was compelled to travel to the capital of King's county; so were grand jurors and petit—or common—jurors, so were the high sheriff, and all the big men, and minor men who, somehow, manage to find opportunities of performing public service in connection with an assize court; and all the trouble and expense was entailed so that the judge and grand jurors, the common jurors, and the wise persons associated with them might decide a quarrel between two individuals as to the ownership of an ass valued at ten shillings sterling.

During the present spring assizes going judges in Ireland have, for the most part, been ranked amongst the unemployed. In some places the cases brought before them can't have been disposed of in the county courts, or by magistrates at petit sessions; perhaps some of the cases should not have been heard at all. Mr. Justice Gibson received a pair of white gloves from the sub-sheriff at Kilkenny on Saturday—the first presented to him during an experience of twenty-five years. Mr. Justice Ross was in Cork city on the same day. Only two cases were to be tried—small item of larceny and robbery—in a great community of 100,000 people, and the judge spoke warmly, almost affectionately of the southern capital as possessing an atmosphere that one did not always find about other cities in Ireland. At Roscommon county court Judge Wakely also received a pair of white gloves on Saturday. So the tale has been told throughout Ireland—from Derry, Antrim and Down to the ends of the south and west.

The emigration from Ireland, according to the annual report of the registrar general showed a decrease of 1,229, the figures being 15,675 males and 14,124 females, making a total of 29,799. Since 1851, when the collection of returns commenced—and it must be remembered that the famine years preceding drove out thousands—the total number of emigrants amount to 2,207,637 males and 2,039,723 females; making the enormous total of 4,247,360.

The United States was the destination of 20,466 emigrants, in comparison with an average of 21,388 for the four preceding years. Emigration to Canada showed an increase of 310. The number of emigrants to South Africa was 147, as against 113. The emigrants to Australia numbered 842, as against 765, and those to New Zealand 189, as against 166.

The number of natives of Ireland who emigrated with the intention of settling permanently in Great Britain in 1912 was 1,867. The highest provincial rate was 10.6 per 1000 of the population for Connaught; Ulster came next with a rate of 7.5 and the rates for Munster and Leinster were respectively 6.9 and 3.3 per 1000.

The number of emigrants who embarked at steerage passengers to the United States was 13,357, and of these 5,162 had their passage paid for in America.

Had there been no emigration from Ireland during the last decade, the normal increase in population would have been at the rate of 26,000 each year. But, with the single exception of 1908, the drain of emigration exceeded the normal increase of population by, on an average, 4,000 every year. Worse still, the bulk of the emigrants consists of persons between the ages of 15 and 35 the period when they would be of the greatest economic value to the nation. However, the drain of emigration has, since 1851-61, decreased in each subsequent decade, and there is good reason to hope that when the next census is taken Ireland will be able to show an increasing population.

Citizens of Ireland's capital met in the Mansion House last week under the chairmanship of Ireland's first citizen, the lord mayor of Dublin. They did not hold a public meeting. Addresses were delivered by the lord mayor, John Dillon, M.P., and Joseph Devlin, M.P., and the business of the hour was to inaugurate the home rule fund for 1913 in the metropolis and before the proceedings terminated the sum of $6,500 had been subscribed by those present. Thus, Dublin broke its own record—a great feat when the patriotic generosity of its citizens last year is remembered, and it must be noted that the $6,500 raised so readily is only the nucleus of Dublin's contribution to the fund. Those who had been circulating the hoodoo that the Irish people were not home rulers at heart, and that only a few agitators kept the movement alive, may not have the grace to feel ashamed of themselves—but they will surely muster up enough prudence to abandon pretense so glaringly untrue and ridiculously untenable.

As Dublin has begun, so Ireland will continue. She stands either to realize her national aspirations within the next twelve months or so, or if the fates are unkind, to have all the hopes of the dashed to the ground, and the prospect of another period of agitation and tumult opened up for her. At the present moment everything points to victory for the home rule bill. And the home rule bill means the best constitution Ireland ever possessed, from whatever standpoint the bill is considered. Factism may attack the finance of the bill, but the Irish party and the Irish people are satisfied that the financial settlement is just and reasonable, under the circumstances, and gives our country a fair, even an excellent chance of retrieving its prosperity. The real fact is that with factism it is a case of rule or ruin; it has shown itself incapable of ruling, and the Irish people will take good care that it shall not ruin.

Although there are no medical benefits under the insurance act in this country, friction has already arisen between the doctors and the insurance commissioners. A scale of fees for certification was formulated not long ago by the commissioners, and according to it, the sums to be allowed for a certificate varied from cents to 50c. That any professional gentleman should be asked to give a certificate for such ridiculously low fees to a person to whom he may have to travel a dozen miles or more is rather startling. A messenger would demand as much if not more for going merely on an errand. The proposed fee is less than the tip which would be given a jarvey employed for a comparatively short journey.

The whole medical profession of Dublin has rejected the terms as being totally in adequate, and decline to put their names on the panel unless and until the minimum terms agreed to at the general meeting of the profession be conceded. It is manifest that the doctors all over the country are in revolt against the terms offered by the commissioners. It may take a long time to arrange an agreement between the parties. If medical benefits are extended to this country we may expect to witness an entire struggle between the doctors and the commissioners. The ultimate result will be that the cost of administering the act will exceed all expectations.

OLD WOMAN ROBED*Assailant Throws Pepper in Her Eyes and Snatches Handbag

Paris.—Mine. Jules Aubary, a woman of 75 years, went to a bank in the Boulevard Haussmann and cashed a check for $540.

When she returned to her flat she was attacked on the staircase by a man wearing a long overcoat and a bowler hat. He struck her violently on the neck and then threw a handful of pepper in her eyes. She fainted, and her assailant snatched the handbag containing the $540 and disappeared.

Later the handbag was found empty in an alley in the vicinity.

What They All Said

I can't keep visitors from coming up, said William Winkle, dejectedly. When I say you're out they won't believe me. They all say they must see you.

Well, put them off somehow, said the editor with a worried look. Whatever they say just tell them that's what they all say. Be firm, see?

Yes, sir.

That afternoon a lady called. She had bad features and an acid expression, and she determined to see the editor at once.

Impossible, said William.

But I'm his wife, persisted the lady. That's what they all say, said the editor.

What puzzles me, said Uncle Snooks as he looked up from a book he was consulting, is this: If a man is standing on the side of a hill or mountain how is he to settle in his mind whether he is on an acclivity or declivity? According to my dictionary here the former is a slope up, and the latter a slope down. I've never yet seen a slope up that didn't slope down.

CHILDREN IN THE HOME

When there are children in the home it requires constant attention to keep them free from the many childhood ailments which come so quickly—some of them proving fatal while others leave the little one cross, restless and weak. To keep little ones well Baby's Own Tablets must be kept in the house. These Tablets regulate the stomach and bowels, break up colds and fevers; expel worms and make teething easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brooklyn, N.Y.

He Understood

The man and his wife in the motor car came face to face with the man on a heavily-laden wagon in a narrow lane. Quite as a matter of course the husband made a move to back out and allow the wagon to pass. But his wife objected.

Let him back out, she said coldly. We're here first. He must have seen us coming.

Her husband pointed out that a sharp curve in the road rendered this impossible.

I don't care reiterated the dame in the car. I don't intend to move. I'd rather remain here all day.

But—, the husband began feebly. Give over, man, said the carter, and the tones of his voice expressed a great sympathy. Don't argue any more. I'll back out. I've got one like her at 'ome!

Ask for Minard's and take no other.

No Chance to Escape

I couldn't get out of marrying her, Henepeck explained. When she proposed she said: Will you marry me? Have you any objection? You see, no matter whether I said yes or no, she had me.

Why didn't you just keep silent, then? inquired his friend.

That's what I did, and she said: Silence gives consent, and that ended it.

The house is so lonesome without you and the dear children, writes Blibbins now to the absent wife, who is with the family at her mother's. But the faithful maid-of-all-work writes: Shure, m'm, Mr. Blibbins hasn't seen in until after twelve o'clock never a night since you left.

Cautious. Anyway.—Father—That young man of yours has more brains than I gave him credit for.

Daughter—Oh, papa, you don't really mean it?

Father—Yes, instead of coming to see me he called me up on the telephone.

Tell Price for a Small Book

London.—A copy of the English Bijou Almanac for 1888, which measures only three-quarters of an inch by five-eighths of an inch and is enclosed in a morocco case with a magnifying glass to read it, was sold at Sotheby's recently for $25.

A drunken man will tell you every thing he knows—but what's the use?

SPLIT 40 CORDS AT AGE OF 85*Thankful to the Medicine That Gave Him Ability For the Task.*A VERY INTERESTING CASE

Few men, of eighty-five years of age can boast of much else but poor health and failing strength. A case such as the condition of Mr. Benjamin Marsh, who is known to every soul in the neighborhood of his home at Lime Lake, Ont.

"Quite unsolicited," writes Mr. Marsh, "I will say how I have been bothered for years with stomach trouble. I tried everything I could think of without benefit. I was terribly afflicted with swelling and gas, and had much distress between meals. I tried everything I could think of, but without benefit. Then I was recommended Nerviline. My but Nerviline did me a power of good—made a new man of me, so that within the last three weeks I have been able to split about forty cords of stove wood. I will always recommend it and 'oul' like to meet anyone and convince them if in doubt as to what Nerviline has done for me."

For sour stomach, nausea, belching at night, nothing is more helpful in the home, nothing saves so much pain and distress as Nerviline. Large family size bottles, 50c; small size, 25c; at all storekeepers and drugists or the "atmosphere zone Co.," Et al, N.Y.

All Square

It was in a West End restaurant where Sandy went for a drink, and he ordered a whisky and soda, which they charged him a whole shilling. He complained of the price and said that he was only accustomed to pay 10¢ for a nip of whisky.

Next day, Sandy went in the same place again, ordered a drink and paid down threepence. It was a different barman, but he protested.

No, no said Sandy. No, no, mon; that's all right. I saw yer pictur yesterday.

Minard's Liniment Lumberman's Friend

'Twas a Letter So

They were engaged. Perhaps they were engaged, perhaps he did it only for fun. Said he:

My darling Ethel, what would you say if I were to tell you that I cannot marry you.

I would say, my dearest love, that I have a big brother who would make it warm for you, and that I have some of the sweetest little billets-doux that would make it expensive for you, George dear.

But you know I haven't said it. I know you haven't, my pet. So we'd better get married, hadn't we?

I think so, my precious.

An epileptic dropped in a fit on one of the streets of Boston not long ago and was taken to a hospital. Upon removing his coat there was found pinned to his waistcoat a slip of paper on which was written:

This is to inform the house surgeon that this is just a case of plain fit; not appendicitis. My appendix has already been removed twice.

Employer—Yes, I advertised for a strong boy. Do you think you will suit?

Applicant—Well, have just finished thrashing three other applicants out in the passa-e.

It's better to deliver the goods than to be caught with them on you.

MOTHERHOOD SUGGESTIONS*Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism untrained for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover.

Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother's results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Pinches

A raggard urchin trudged into the shoemaker's and laid a big pair of shoes on the counter.

Mo father wants dese shoes stretch-ed, he said.

All right, replied the shoemaker, where do they pinch 'em?

Aw, answered the youngster, dey don't pinch him—he pinched dem!

TO FINANCE BRITAIN

CLOSE TO ONE BILLION DOLLARS IS THE HUGE ESTIMATE

Chancellor Lloyd George, Staggers the Nation in Introducing the Budget—The Large Increase is Caused by Expenditures for Army and Navy Armaments.

London.—It will cost the staggering sum of $978,200,000 to run the British government during the ensuing fiscal year, according to the chancellor, Lloyd George, who introduced his budget in the House of Commons. This is a big increase, the augmentation being caused by expenditures for army and navy armaments.

According to the chancellor, the British public is going on the water wagon. His speech showed that 23,000,000 gallons less spirits were drunk in the past four years than in the preceding period.

The export trade of the country is not at its high water mark. The chancellor said he would be prepared to raise $25,000,000 outside of known revenues. No new taxes will be imposed to meet the expenditures.

The European money stridency, said the chancellor, is due to France and Austria and Germany hoarding $300,000,000 for any emergency which might involve war. British trade is increasing at the rate of about $5,000,000 annually.

While he could not remit any taxes, he expected to pull through without levying any new imposts. This, he said, was in spite of the fact that he was faced with the necessity of finding the sum of $37,500,000 more than the revenue had brought him during the fiscal year just closed.

The chancellor estimated that the total revenue on the existing basis of taxation would be $979,125,000 leaving a margin of $25,000 over the estimated expenditure.

The cost of armaments, Chancellor Lloyd George remarked, is the largest and most sterile increase in the expenditure, and I cannot see any prospect of this menacing development coming to an end, unless some change takes place in the attitude and policy of the nations concerned.

The expenditure on education and social reform was lauded on the other hand by the chancellor as reproductive work, promising strength, happiness and efficiency to the nation.

The Chancellor drew an encouraging cheer from the House with the statement that although the consumption of spirits had actually decreased by 25,000,000 gallons in four years, the revenue had increased, he said by $25,000,000 so proving that his method of taxing the tariff in liquor was one of the most successful imposts that had ever been levied.

C.P.R. to Use Telephones in West

Winnipeg.—The Canadian Pacific Railway will construct 4,775 miles of telegraph, etc. during 1913. An immense programme is mapped out by officials of the company for western Canada, and it is ultimately their intention to use telephones exclusively throughout the west with the exception of small branch lines. The use of telephones for conducting the business of despatching trains and carrying commercial messages will be adopted in the course of the next few years. Two thousand, two hundred and eighty miles of lines will be operated this year by telephone.

French Press Quiet About Scandal

Paris.—The entire press except the anti-militarists are preserving an extraordinary silence about the Krupp scandal. The absence of editorial comment is taken generally as a courteous rebuke to the German outbursts on the Nancy incident, and not a suspicious sign of the truth of the charges which, except in one or two cases, are said to be highly uncertain.

The Figaro, the only paper as yet directly accused, does not deny that it received Krupp overtures, merely stating that it never printed the alleged articles to increase French hatred of Germany.

Build Lines into Biggar

Biggar, Sask.—Railway construction work centering at Biggar continues to go forward on an elaborate scale, and the indications accumulate pointing to this city as the eventual location of a home terminal and central divisional headquarters. Early in May the G.T.P. bridged over the Bow river is expected to be completed after which the final portion of the line will be laid into Calgary. Meanwhile rapid progress is reported on track laying of the Biggar-Calgary line, the line of steel now reaching to within a few miles west of this city.

Lecture by Sir William Osler

New Haven, Conn.—Sir William Osler, the English medical authority, delivered the first of five Silliman lectures on "The evolution of modern medicine" at Yale. The lecture dealt with the origin of medicine in primitive man, and its relation to magic and religion. The character of ancient medicine may be studied today, he said in China, where charms, enchantments and death-hanishing herbs are universally employed.

Rush Work on the Pas Terminals

The Pas, Man.—Chief Engineer Armstrong, of the Hudson Bay railway, has received definite instructions to start work as early as possible on the huge terminals on the south side recently purchased by the department of railways from the department of Indian affairs. When all the ground bought and otherwise secured has been utilized by the repair shops, roundhouses, depot and forty tracks, over six hundred and fifty acres will be employed.

Improving Upper Cove

Calgary, Alta.—The Dominion government will expend $100,000 on the Upper Cove at Banff according to S. J. Clarke, superintendent of the National Park. Their work will start just as soon as the funds are available. The season opened early this year and already the resort is crowded with visitors.

ENGLAND AND JAPAN

The Times Expresses an Opinion on California Scheme

London.—Interest in the development of the question of the Japanese colony in California is very considerable here. The Times in an editorial this morning says:

Public feeling in Japan has been strongly aroused and it is clear from indignation meetings which have been held that the Japanese believe that the dispute is not merely symbolic of the whole question of their future status in the world. Dispassionate observers can, at least, appreciate the feeling at work on both sides.

The action of the California legislature only represent one phase of the rising alarm in the United States at the growth of large populations not akin in tradition to the original founders of the American nation.

On a solid mass of ten million negroes there has been superimposed a dense layer of backward peoples from Southern and Eastern Europe, and the white race in the western states have an additional dread of competition from the white man. Japan, on the other hand, though cherishing no impossible dreams, is gaining a foothold on the American continent and is keenly resentful of importations of racial inferiority. It is the humiliation which wounds her and the proud, sensitive nation which has newly won a place in the world far acute that her sacrifices and struggles have not yet achieved for her all the recognition which she deems to be her due.

It is precisely because such inflammatory susceptibilities are discernible in both quarters that we hope President Wilson will succeed in his efforts to obtain either an abandonment, or at any rate, a modification of the threatened Californian legislation.

Wheat Yield 200,000,000 for 1913

Winnipeg.—The head offices of the G.T.P. estimate that the wheat yield for the coming year will be at least 200,000,000 bushels. The G.T.P. and the C.N.R. will have space for the storage of at least one-tenth of this output, the storage being measured for grain that will be in the elevators at one time.

Their capacity for handling the grain this year is considered better than it ever was, and the officials are satisfied that no blockade will occur with the coming of the navigation season, and in the west all eyes have been turned to the elevator capacity and the G.T.P. makes the following announcement.

In Alberta there are 18 elevators with a capacity of 205,600 bushels; Saskatchewan, 75 with a 3,785,000 bushel capacity; Manitoba, 25 with 918,000 bushels; Georgian Bay ports, 10 with 9,860,000 bushels; West Port one with 6,000,000 bushels; Montreal, one with 1,180,000 bushels; total, 22,649,000. It is to be borne in mind that these figures represent what can be stored at one time, and does not affect wheat which is in transit.

W.H. Likely Bore for Gas

Wainwright, Alta.—It has recently been pointed out that Wainwright is in a direct line north of the Medicine Hat gas fields, and experts state that in their opinion indications would seem to justify extensive investigations with a view to ascertaining the character and location of the natural gas resources of this vicinity. Wainwright's industrial expansion during the past few months has been especially encouraging, and substantial; and it is believed that with the additional impetus that would be derived from the finding of gas in commercial quantities an era of large development would be assured. An appropriation for this purpose is now under consideration by the city council.

Alberta Half Through Seeding

Calgary, Alta.—From 40 to 50 per cent of the seeding in the southern part of the province and a greater percentage in the north, has been done in the report of the various experts in the employ of the department of natural resources of the Canadian Pacific railway, as made today.

Plan for Greater City

Calgary, Alta.—R. A. Ross, the Montreal power expert, submitted a report to the city council in which he advises Calgary to plan its power possibilities for 200,000 people, the population which he estimates will be living within the confines of Calgary within 10 years.

POWERS ARE WORRIED

FALL OF SCUTARI PRESENTS AN INTERNATIONAL PROBLEM

An Unusual and Extraordinary Situation Now Confronts Europe—The Next Step of the Powers in Facing the New Situation is Difficult to Forecast.

London.—The news of the fall of Scutari to the Montenegrins has been received with extraordinary interest. The dispute is not merely symbolic of the whole question of their future status in the world.

Dispassionate observers can, at least, appreciate the feeling at work on both sides.

The action of the California legislature only represent one phase of the rising alarm in the United States at the growth of large populations not akin in tradition to the original founders of the American nation.

On a solid mass of ten million negroes there has been superimposed a dense layer of backward peoples from Southern and Eastern Europe, and the white race in the western states have an additional dread of competition from the white man.

Japan, on the other hand, though cherishing no impossible dreams, is gaining a foothold on the American continent and is keenly resentful of importations of racial inferiority.

It is the humiliation which wounds her and the proud, sensitive nation which has newly won a place in the world far acute that her sacrifices and struggles have not yet achieved for her all the recognition which she deems to be her due.

It is precisely because such inflammatory susceptibilities are discernible in both quarters that we hope

President Wilson will succeed in his efforts to obtain either an abandonment, or at any rate, a modification of the threatened Californian legislation.

The Vienna correspondent of The Daily Telegraph asserts that the Austrian government has repented, but mainly tried to induce the Powers to consent to the landing of forces from the international fleet to bring pressure upon King Nicholas. He adds that Austria's patience is now exhausted and that Austria insists either that the Powers compel Montenegro to evacuate Albanian territory, including Scutari, or that Austria can be given a mandate to do so.

Austria believes that an expedi-

tive force of 4,000 can achieve this task without bloodshed, and unless the Powers speedily come to a decision,

she will act alone.

The press of the whole of Europe recognizes that the situation is extremely serious. The ambassadorial conference met in London and discussed the peace negotiations and the fall of Scutari. It is understood an agreement was reached.

Another German Airship in France

Nancy, France.—Another international military aviation incident occurred on the Franco-German frontier

when a German army aeroplane alighted on French territory at Nord Aran-court. Two German officers in uniform were on board.

The local military police and French customs officers hastened to the spot and Captain Devall explained to them that his gasoline had become exhausted.

He had thought at the time of landing that he was on the German side of the frontier.

The French administration officials are conducting an investigation and meanwhile the German aeroplane is kept under detention.

The French ministers of war and interior, after they had heard the report of the civil and military authorities, decided that the landing was unavoidable.

The aeroplane was released and returned to Germany.

MILLER'S RELEASE

Friends of State Prisoner A. C. Miller's Freedom on Usual Grounds

Ottawa.—The release of R. C. Miller, of Montreal, from the Crillon county jail where he has been confined for two months for defying parliament and refusing to divulge information and refusing to divulge the destination of $41,000 paid him to get business for the Diamond Light and Heating Company of Montreal, is the object of a petition which was put into circulation among the prisoners' friends in Montreal and elsewhere. His health is said to be the chief ground on which the petition for

Mr. Miller's release was based.

It was contended that he is failing physically by being kept in durance and is too ill to be kept in jail.

Dr. Roche to Visit England Soon

Ottawa.—Hon. Dr. Roche, minister of the interior, will sail for England on the Olympian from New York, on May 3. He will be absent about six weeks and will visit Scotland and Ireland. He will combine rest and state business. The ocean voyage has been presented as a tonic effect after his recent severe illness and in Great Britain he will look into immigration matters with a view to a partial reorganization of the Canadian immigration agencies there.

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons &amp; Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, April 22.—The markets

during the past week have ruled strong and higher, the main strengthening influence again being the firm apparition in the foreign markets.

A further influence especially in the United States markets, has been complaints of dry weather in western Kansas. These complaints are perhaps a little premature as reliable authorities claim there is no change from the recent high promises. There has also been reports of grass-hoppers and other field pests from isolated localities but these did not count for much as the area said to be affected was comparatively small. However the mere fact that the trade was willing to consider rumors of this kind shows that sentiment has rapidly changed to the bull side and will readily take hold of any pretext or change in crop prospects to put prices higher.

Eighty-five per cent of the headaches are the result of eye strain, if you are troubled that way do not fail to consult Mr. S. L. Taube at Yates' Drug Store on Wednesday, May 7th.

The secretary of the "Rural Municipality of—" has been sending reports to the Call of late, which have not appeared, and when a reporter was asked the other day why they did not appear he promptly replied that he supposed it was for the reason that the reports were first sent to the eastern office where the municipality got their job printing. Being informed that only the printing that cost money was sent east the reporter premised that the very next report sent in would be printed as it did not cost anything for ink and paper and the proprietor and printer lived chiefly on ozone. For himself he was sure he could do without beefsteak, potatoes flour, etc.

Remember the date of Mr. Taubes visit to Yates' Drug Store on Wednesday, May 7th, and if there is any thing wrong with your sight, do not fail to consult him.
